WHAT DOES SCODY STAND FOR?

SCODY stands for “Sporting Concepts of Distant Years” which embodies our emphasis on research and development and guides us in our pursuit of performance.

Beyond that, SCODY at its core strives to make people happy through exercise. It is about happiness from being part of something, from belonging, from challenging yourself, from looking good, feeling good and performing at your best.

We work with our sponsored athletes, teams, events and sporting regulators to promote exercise and activity throughout the community.

We supply high-quality performance wear and provide support through our communication channels to encourage activity throughout the broader community.

AUSTRALIAN MANUFACTURER

We pride ourselves in being one of the few local sports clothing manufacturers who still produce clothing in Australia. This allows unparalleled quality, production speed and innovation.

We develop our own patterns based on research and testing and source the best fabrics from all over the world to construct garments with an edge. We don't just put our name on someone else's product.

By creating our own garments we ensure we understand our clothing and are constantly adapting and improving our products based on feedback and testing to ensure our garments help athletes perform at their best.
